

Graduate Recruitment

Asirt's Graduate Recruitment Programme is successfully used by leading UK and international organisations.

It creates a level playing field for all candidates and rids the assessment process of bias, however unintended.

It can identify the real "stars" from hundreds of candidates quicker than the competition.

You determine the precise requirements you need from candidates: Asirt designs the on-line questionnaire and manages the responses.

Lost candidate information becomes a thing of the past.

Personal, prompt and courteous communications with every candidate: they know if they are successful or not quicker than conventional methods.

Now read how our clients use the Asirt process.